P. R. MILNES

The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writer and do not necessarily reflect those of the management. In fact, many times they do not.

Every city has its parking problem, but there is no record of a successful solution having been found.

Richmond was momentarily agitated over whether it should retain diagonal or go back to parallel parking.

THE REAL SOLUTION

The consensus of opinion seems to favor the present style, even with its admitted handicaps. Naturally and logically the solution here is the widening of Macdonald avenue and strict enforcement of the time limit. But adding five or ten feet to the width of the thoroughfare would involve tremendous expense and neither the city nor the property owner is in a position to stand such a heavy impost. The result is that we will struggle along until such time as conditions force the widening move.

OTHERS HAVE GRIEF

Oklahoma City, it appears, also has its grief in connection with parking in the business district and has adopted a unique method to overcome it. Park-o-meters have been installed and when the motorist parks his car at the curb he deposits a nickel, which entitles the car to stay there a certain length of time. When the period expires and the auto has not been removed, a signal flies up and a motorcycle officer tags the machine for illegal parking.

NOT PRACTICAL

However, the citizens have not taken kindly to the scheme and are deluging the authorities with all manner of protests, ranging from short-chanting to the complaint that if a man must park frequently the drain is too heavy on his pocketbook. The fact that it requires the services of an officer to tag violators detracts considerably from the merits and desirability of the scheme; in other words the idea is neither practicable nor feasible, and something else must be tried.

Weather Delays Wiley Post And Wife On Flight

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 2.—UP—Adverse weather reports from Juneau and Nome today made it inadvisable for Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Post to take off for Siberia.

A change in weather will be necessary if he is to take off Saturday or Sunday. The forecast was for overcast skies with probable rain. A ceiling of 800 feet was reported at Ketchikan and 2,000 feet at Juneau.

Bryn Mawr airport borders Lake Washington. The plane may be placed in the water in minutes, permitting a takeoff any time a favorable weather report is received.

State Autos Are Ordered Garaged

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 2.—UP—R. Ray Ingels, new director of the department of motor vehicles, today ordered into the State garage all department automobiles except those driven by employees who "work on the outside."

Two specific exceptions to the order were made, E. Raymond Cato chief of the highway patrol, and Russell Bevans, registrar of motor vehicles, were permitted to keep their state cars. Those in the garage can be used only with Ingels' permission.

"State cars are for official business and for nothing else," Ingels said. "So far as my department is concerned there will be no joy-riding in state-owned vehicles."

Ingels has no jurisdiction on cars in other departments.

FLIGHT OVER NORTH POLE IS STARTED

MOSCOW, Saturday, Aug. 3.—UP—Sigmund Levanevsky, chief pilot and two companions, took off at 6 A. M. today for San Francisco, via the North Pole.

The plane, equipped with powerful radio, faced a trip of 9,954 miles, much of the distance over Arctic waste.

OFF IN RAIN

The plane took off in a heavy rain but after 150 kilometers Levanevsky encountered clear weather as he had been advised in earlier reports.

He expected to arrive in San Francisco within 70 hours.

United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt, high official of the Soviet government and representatives of the Soviet and foreign press gathered at the airport and saw the departure of the plane's crew.

CARRIES STOVE

The fliers had awaited for several days for favorable weather reports from the roof of the world, according to Tass, Russian newsagency.

Their plane, single-motored, has long tapering wings and a short, grey fuselage.

A stove was carried for use if the ship is forced down in the Arctic wilderness.

BACKED BY SOVIET

The flight differs widely from individual achievements such as those of Col. Charles Lindbergh and Rear Admiral Richard Byrd of the United States. It is a government undertaking and Soviet officials expect it to blaze a trail for regular trans-Arctic air transportation between Russia and the United States.

"We shall try to fulfill our duty toward the motherland," said the pilot on behalf of himself, Col. Pilot Levchenko and Radio man Baidukoff.

Forty Soviet weather observation stations were established in the Arctic to aid the fliers. Levanevsky holds the rank of "hero of the Soviet Union" and was decorated for rescuing the crew of the stranded Soviet ice breaker Cheluskin last year.

AAA Violation By Packers Is Growers' Charge

FRESNO, Aug. 2.—UP—Three hundred valley raisin growers, meeting here today, charged violation by packers had reduced the 1934 AAA raisin marketing agreement to the status of "a scrap of paper."

The growers named a committee to work out a pooling arrangement for disposal of the 1935 crop, specifically in cooperation with Federal officials and along lines which would permit government loans to growers.

The growers praised the old California raisin pool, which collapsed in 1932 when insufficient growers signed a 10-year renewal agreement. Last year's surplus still held by growers should be disposed of through government channels, the growers agreed.

Missing Plane Believed Found

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—UP—A Coast Guard amphibian reported tonight it sighted wreckage, believed to be that of the mystery army "super pursuit plane" in which Lieutenant Arthur H. Sklar disappeared Tuesday, on San Clemente Island.

Coast Guard reports were not sufficiently detailed to determine whether the wreckage definitely was identified as the blue-bellied army Northrop.

Catholics Are Given Warning By Nazi Chief

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—UP—The Nazi regime will use all instruments at its command against Catholics antipathetic to National Socialism, Robert Wagner, State Minister (Reich Commissioner) for Prussia, asserted tonight.

Addressing 70,000 enthusiastic supporters of the Third Reich at Karlshof, Wagner said:

"He who in the future attacks National Socialism, the philosophy of the German nation, is our enemy."

"He will be treated as such. We are able no longer to indulge in clemency. We shall tolerate no more clerical meddling with politics."

Wagner, one of the foremost national leaders in the Third Reich, assailed foreign newspapers for their accounts of events in present-day Germany.

He accused the Catholics of supplying "part of the slanders about Germany published in foreign newspapers."

He said: "Catholic Germans who have caused us to be slandered abroad are traitors to their own people. They ought to be hanged."

Wagner warned Catholics that the current campaign against the confessional front is but a forerunner of what is to come.

"We shall tolerate no more Catholic political newspapers, news organizations or workers' unions," he thundered as his audience roared acclaim.

NO HEARING HELD

The preliminary examination of Anacleto Torres, charged with the murder of Aroa Cadera was not held before Justice of the Peace Erskine W. Smith yesterday at Port Costa, the prisoner still being too weak from his self-enforced fast to go through the ordeal of a hearing. No definite date was fixed for the examination. The case was continued without day.

HOUSE WILL VOTE MONDAY ON TAX ACT

W.A. RAYBOLD, Aug. 2.—UP—Huey P. Long, who has the wealth plan as a measure of the House tonight, said an amendment to the Revenue tax bill limiting private inquests to $5,000 a year, was voted down.

Representative W. D. McFarlane (Dem., Tex.) opposed the amendment in at dusk when few members were on the floor, but a hearty vote brought enough administration strength into the chamber to defeat his proposal.

NEW PRESENT

The vote was 50 to 11. Only 61 members were on the floor less than one seventh of the House membership—when McFarlane insisted on putting his amendment on a vote tonight.

Earlier the regular Democrats gathered their strength at the back of Chairman Robert T. Doughton of the House ways and means committee. No roll call was taken. It was a standing vote.

Amendments to the bill floated in from both the left and right wings of the House. Representative Hamilton Fish, Republican New York, offered an amendment which would allow the government to take only 500,000 per cent in income over $50,000 a year.

McFarlane's amendment was defeated 61 to 11.

House liberals suddenly decided to make their bid for higher taxes all along the line tonight in lieu of waiting until tomorrow. An amendment which would impose the British income tax rate on all persons earning more than $10,000 a year, was introduced.

It was defeated 50 to 11.

Find Body Of Richmond Man In His Home

Explicitly dead, but almost a week the body of Ray, 37, of 429 E. 11th street, was found in his home, shortly after 6 o'clock last evening.

Death, according to police and coroner's deputies, who investigated the case, was due to natural causes.

The body was discovered by Mrs. J. E. Fenton, of 154 E. 11th street, who had been called to the home to collect the monthly rent and when no one answered her summons, she unlocked the door and entered the home, she found the body slumped in a chair, stretched across his bed, dead.

The funeral of which immediate notice was given, was held at 10 o'clock Sunday evening, and the body was buried in the cemetery of the Holy Trinity church.

The investigation of the death of Ray, which was held at the home of the family, a package of clothing and a bottle of powder, used for indignation, were found in the room.

PEACE PLAN IS APPROVED BY IL DUCE

GENEVA, Aug. 2.—UP—British and French tonight united in a three-point program to break the League of Nations Council deadlock and set in motion machinery for saving the League and effecting a peaceful settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald accepted the plan.

The plan, which would avoid disputed points on which British, Italian and Ethiopian remain unconvinced after three days of hectic negotiations.

Although Ethiopia has yet to indicate its attitude towards the new formula, Council members hope that it will be favorable and make "possible" unanimous adoption Saturday of resolutions postponing further League intervention in the East African conflict until September.

French Premier Pierre Laval said the Council will meet Saturday to approve the new formula, which provides for reviving arbitration. Appointment of a fifth, neutral, member of the conciliatory commission and Franco-Italian negotiations on the basis of the 1906 treaty outside the League's framework.

AGREEMENT MADE

Crazed Grocer Attacks Wife Kills Himself

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—UP—A crazed grocer attacked his wife with a hammer and shotgun tonight, fired the shotgun at her, but missed, and then turned the hammer on himself, killing her.

Police doctors and the man, Bridgman J. Peak, 51, died from loss of blood.

A neighbor, hearing Mrs. Peak's screams, rushed to her home and found her husband with blood on his head and hands, and a hammer in his hand. He was shot in the chest, and died.

BRIDGES TO BE DELEGATE TO CAPITAL

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 2.—UP—Harry Bridges, left wing leader of West Coast Longshoremen and director of the 1934 dock strike, will be one of the delegates at the Washington conference called by Edward F. McGrady, assistant Secretary of Labor, for the purpose of bringing permanent peace to marine labor circles.

William J. Lewis, conservative, who recently defeated Bridges for the district presidency of the International Longshoremen's Association, appointed Bridges and two conservatives, W. T. (Paddy) Morris of Tacoma and Cliff Weston of Portland.

TO LEAVE SOON
They will leave Portland by airplane for Washington at conclusion of the district committee meeting, probably Saturday.

Bridges is president of the San Francisco local, Morris is district vice-president, and Thurston is district vice-president.

SLAP AT SHIPPERS
The appointment of Bridges was seen as a slap at shippers, who reportedly have demanded demolition of Bridges and other "radical" leaders as one of the terms for renewal of the union-employers working agreement which expires September 30.

The employers also have demanded elimination of "quickie" and sympathy strikes, chief points to be discussed at Washington.

Lewis said a majority of West Coast locals of the I. L. A. appear to be in favor of renewing the present working agreement. He did not indicate however whether any of them were in favor of the employers' terms for renewal.

3 BOYS FLEE CAMP; SOUGHT BY OFFICERS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 2.—UP—Searchers on foot and airplanes ranged over the parched Cave Creek desert tonight, searching for three boys who ran away from a recreation camp because they were dissatisfied.

The missing boys, all Mexicans, are Tony Acosta, 12; Leo Coronado, 13, and Raymond Flores, 11. Two others, Raymond Romero, 13, and Edwin Arce, 12, who fled with the others, were found today. Sheriff's officers said there was strong possibility the boys were exhausted, and perhaps some of them dead, due to exposure since Wednesday morning on the hot desert.

Bloodhounds will be brought to the camp to track the missing youths if they are not found tonight.

Young Romero stumbled into a ranch house north of Cave Creek dam tonight, suffering from exhaustion. He was able to utter only a few disconnected words, but authorities said he evidently was lost from his companions.

The Arce boy was found early today and brought to a Phoenix hospital, also suffering from exposure and exhaustion.

Lack of water in the desert area into which the boys fled aroused fear for their lives. Camp officials explained they had not reported absence of the boys earlier because they thought they "merely wandered off, and would come back."

Poison Death Of Bride Probed

OAKLAND, Aug. 2.—The mystery death of an 18-year-old Oakland bride today furnished police with a set of peculiar circumstances that have resulted in a rigid inquiry by the East Bay authorities.

The dead woman is Mrs. Julia Franz, 936 East Fourteenth street, wife of Kenneth Franz, a glass worker. Although the young woman took poison around 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, she was not taken to a hospital until nearly eight hours later. She died shortly after being brought into the East Bay hospital.

Neighbors told police they heard a woman screaming and sounds of a quarrel from the Franz apartment late Thursday night. Franz admitted there had been a quarrel, but said it had been "all patched up" before he and his wife retired.

The couple were married in Los Angeles three months ago and came to Oakland about two months ago. Franz told authorities he knew of no reason for his wife's persistent attempts to take her own life.

SANITARY BOARD IS AGAINST MORE DARIES

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the El Cerrito Sanitary Board was held Thursday evening at a spirited discussion over a resolution to send a communication to the El Cerrito City Council stating that the Board is opposed to having any more dairies located in the city of El Cerrito.

The resolution was introduced by John Sandvick, who is opposed to too many dairies on the ground that they seldom comply entirely with the sanitary ordinances, and that when they do not they are more or less nuisances. He was supported in this contention by Weyland, Lockland and Christensen. Weyland being especially opposed to dairies on the ground that they are detrimental to real estate values, and that they inhibit the growth of the residential section of the town.

Kister voted against the resolution, his contention being that any business that complies with the regulations should be welcome to the city and that those which do not so comply should be required to do so, even if it should require a better police force to compel compliance. Especially at this time, Kister thought, when many find it difficult to earn a livelihood, anyone willing to comply with the sanitary rules should be permitted to make their living out of the dairy business if they could. It was

PUBLISHER IS BOARD ROW INCURABLY MAD IS GROWING DOCTORS SAY HOTTER DAILY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—UP—An opinion of H. H. H. A. Banks, ex-pulchro and notorious, of the Board of Supervisors, is incurably insane and should not be released from prison where he is serving a life term for second degree murder was read into the record today at a hearing before Judge C. H. Martin.

Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, who testified at the Oregon State Hospital, alleged Banks had a "psychopathic personality" with strong paranoid trends.

Dr. Steiner's opinion was contained in a report by W. L. Gosselin, secretary to the board.

"He is of the type who has taken life and in his present frame of mind might do it again if he were at large," Dr. Steiner's report continued in part.

Dr. J. C. Evans, assistant, said Banks killed George Prescott, Modesto, California, at the height of Jackson county's political war three years ago. Petitions signed by several hundred persons who sought his pardon were filed recently.

Dr. Steiner and Evans opposed transfer of Banks from prison to the state hospital.

Gosselin expressed belief a charge by Banks that someone attempted to poison him in prison was false.

"All the evidence in this case points directly to Banks himself as being the person who crumbled bichloride of mercury tablets into his own sugar," Gosselin said, explaining that Banks had been depressed at the time by Governor Julius Meyer's denial of a pardon.

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—UP—Firstworld political friendships cracked to the breaking point today when State Controller Ray I. Riley clashed hotly with Otto Jesu Shontz, Los Angeles member of the State Board of Equalization.

The clash came after State Senator Henry W. Hahn, Danvers, had issued a reply to Riley's charges that he had induced Miss Shontz to resign on the Riley chairmanship of the equalization board.

"DELIBERATIONS OF GRADEUR"

McGuire said Riley was "sufficiently sane to be a common political animal known as a politician of gradeur," and commented that the controller was "talking about his own" with regard to his charges concerning Miss Shontz's part in the board's removal.

McGuire, a member of the Senate civil service investigating committee, said he "imagined" Riley would be given an opportunity to appear before the investigating group to explain on his charges that a recent shake-up in the Los Angeles district honor administration forces was a "smoke-screen" followed by his own removal from chairmanship of the state board.

TALKED TO TESTIFY

"Talking through my hat, was I," snorted Riley later. "You may tell them I would be tickled to death to appear before that Senate investigating committee."

MISS SHONTZ TALKS

Miss Shontz issued a statement today, saying: "I've never talked to Sen. McGuire in my life except at the formal hearing of the committee in the presence of the entire membership. However, I believe Sen. McGuire's statement covered the situation quite fully and I've no other comment to make."

HEATED CONVERSATION

"Will you deny or affirm my statement that you told me about those two men," Riley asked Miss Shontz when the board met today.

"No, I said I had issued a statement and would say no more," Miss Shontz said.

"You might as well say something about it because I can prove it," Riley retorted.

"Mr. Riley, I decline either to affirm or to deny it," Miss Shontz insisted.

Miss Shontz joined with Riley and John Corbett, San Francisco board member, last January, to oust Richard Collins as chairman of the board, a position he held for 20 years. Collins this week was restored to the chairmanship when Miss Shontz joined Fred Stewart, Oakland member, in voting his resignation.

Golden Gate Is Closed During Laying Of Cable

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—UP—The Golden Gate was closed to shipping for the first time in its long history today, while the first transbay cable which will be used in building a catwalk between the two towers of the Golden Gate bridge was laid.

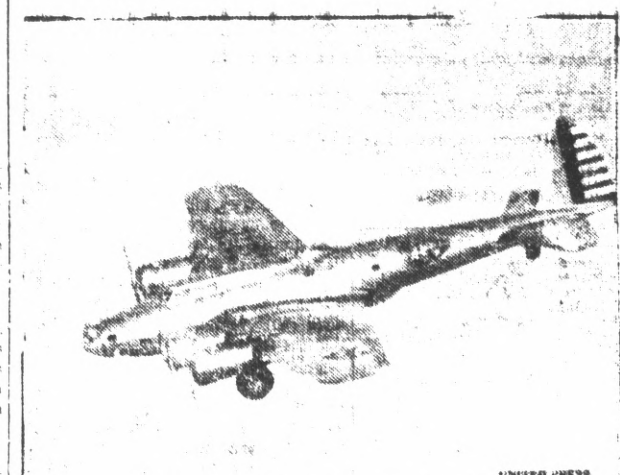

The Gate was closed for 20 minutes while a barge unwound nearly a mile of 1 3/8 inch steel wire. The wire was allowed to sink to the bottom of the bay. Tomorrow, it will be hoisted by derricks to the top of the 7-foot towers. More than 25 other cables must be flung across the harbor entrance before the catwalks—used in cable spinning operations for the gigantic suspension span—can be constructed.

THOMAS ASKS ELIMINATION OF SILVER TAX

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. — Elimination of the 30 per cent tax on silver buying profits was proposed in a bill placed before the Senate today by Senator Elbert Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, who said on that the tax is general to the purposes of the silver purchase act of 1934.

The bill, by Senator Elbert Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, who with Thomas has led silver removal legislation in the Senate, was introduced as an amendment to the A. A. V. amendments.

With the favorable report on the bill from the agriculture committee, Thomas submitted a statement in which he predicted that the amendment would have to buy silver for $1,000,000 worth of silver at $1 an ounce to fulfill the silver purchase program.

Thomas charged that the tax has driven principal silver trading activities from New York to London and diverted to foreign the lines of refined bullion, including coins, as well as shipping, incidental insurance and handling business on silver acquired for the government purchase program.

The tax also has destroyed American silver brokers by making the New York Federal Reserve Bank, which deals exclusively with London brokers, the sole government agency. This bank, Thomas charged, is opposed to the program and can make use of its powers to thwart it.

"No responsible and just policy could have disregarded the questions as to who should reap the advantages flowing from the government's monetary action with reference to silver," Thomas said.

Thomas estimated the future buying requirements by the history of silver prices. When the silver purchase act was passed, he said, silver sold on the world market for 50 cents an ounce, but increased to 67 1/2 cents an ounce, Thomas said.

The government's objective, to raise silver prices to $1.29 per ounce, has been complicated by a drop to 67 1/2 cents an ounce, Thomas said.

Queening It With Lanny

1. Muriel Wilson; 2. Helen Oelheim; 3. Rosaline Greene; 4. Virginia George; 5. Maria Silveira, with Lanny Ross, star of Captain Henry's Show Boat in center.

Surrounded by feminine beauty is Lanny Ross of Captain Henry's Show Boat. For many are the lovely girls in that famous entertainment troupe, which, every Thursday evening, brings music, gaiety and drama into millions of American homes tuned in on the NBC radio network.

There's Muriel Wilson of the lovely soprano voice heard in solos and in duets with Lanny. Muriel is one of those enviable girls with dark hair, gray eyes, incredibly long lashes, and a fair skin. Although that's correct enough, she has the most beautiful hands in radio, small, white, and soft.

Performing with Lanny, too, is lovely Rosaline Greene, one of the most smartly gowned ladies on the air. A decided brunette with a wind-blown bob and smooth, olive skin, Rosaline has a slender figure and legs that would do credit to any Ziegfeld show.

Then there's Helen Oelheim, the contrary one of the sweetest girls in any theatrical troupe. Helen's famous for her ever good humor and high cheer. In the ensemble is Virginia George, a radiant personality with flashing brown eyes and a magnificent smile, and Maria Silveira, a perfect example of striking, oriental beauty.

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT

By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, August 2. — Play are dropping out of the Broadway running faster than summer squalls come up, but "Three Men On A Horse" keeps racing along at top speed.

An amazing success, this comedy, just about a year ago, Mr. Yokel first held at the old City. It was by a young actor named John Cecil Holm, who was 19, and had written the play in a home with the hope of running one of the cash Yokel himself was looking for having had tough luck in producing ventures. He was filling in with odd jobs of publicity for various restaurants about town.

The play was then titled "Honey Horses," and created a little in certain spots. But Yokel saw only in it and began pestering other managers to take a crack at it. It took three months to get it to the stage.

Yokel then turned it down. So did the other managers. And several other managers then came along and each one of them, under a Warner Brothers in further and looking, and called in George Abbott for the rewriting job. Finally, after spending less than $100,000, they opened the show last January.

The rest is history. I was in the second night audience, and never much fed up with a long first of previous watch-outs which had been putting me to sleep repeatedly for weeks. With the rest of the house, however, I sat up attentively and at the first act. It was so much come a little, and all of it was so much lighted with the relief from the drought. The audience kept laughing, right through, and when it was over we knew a hit had come to town.

A half million dollars have already been cleared on the play. Four companies are out with it, on the road, London and France have bought, producing rich. It's the biggest hit in show business in a dozen years.

There still are bonanzas to be picked up if you've an eye for them.

NO DEFENSE Poor Pedro Carver, the giant prizefighter who breaks my heart, not only lost his recent fight to Joe Louis but is in danger of losing his earnings to state Democratic party leader. At times for Mrs. Mount's estate, he had been in the hands of the court.

Many Babies Given Too Much and Varied Food Too Early

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

ECZEMA is one of the most common ailments of children. Just why improperly digested food should so frequently cause skin irritation is not perfectly clear. The process of digestion and absorption is a very long and complicated one. The food is digested and absorbed from the intestine, carried into the blood stream to all parts of the body where it is needed.

If some portion of this material is poisonous, it causes disturbance somewhere. The skin, particularly of the face and hands, is exposed to outside influences and irritation. It has a great many small blood vessels which receive a very large quantity of blood and for that reason, my sufferer from internal irritations. Or this poison in the blood may irritate the nerves which supply the skin.

The skin contains a vast number of nerves, controlling contraction and relaxation as well as those that regulate the sense of touch and pain. If the nerves supplying the skin are irritated they will send discordant messages to the vessels supplying the skin surface and cause "most any form of disturbance." The skin dilates and contracts according to the form of these nerve messages. It may receive too much or too little blood. The skin cells may become dilated too much or too little and as a result, the skin is irritated, dry, or one that is blistered, angry, and inflamed.

Allment Not Choosy

Ecema attacks the rich and the poor, the fat and the lean, the so-called well fed and the poorly fed. It is no respecter of persons and is one of the diseases that is increasing in frequency.

In former years mothers nursed their babies. If they were able to furnish plenty of breast milk the baby waxed fat; if not he went hungry. When his mother appeared other foods were added to his diet, but usually not before. Only when his digestion had progressed far enough to care for other foods were they supplied him.

He cried as often from hunger as from colic. If he was thin and scrawny and cut his teeth late, he was in hard luck, because other foods were not furnished. He was frequently much underfed. As a result he did not so frequently suffer from eczema, but he did suffer from rickets and malnutrition; and there was a greater percentage of bone tuberculosis, hip joint disease, and curvature of the spine.

Today, underfeeding is a rare occurrence, but overfeeding is very common. Our radio, our magazines, and newspapers are full of various preparations for the feeding of children. Everything and anything is guaranteed to render the baby healthy, strong, fat, and sassy. Well, it is frequently made sassy or at least miserable.

Gets New Food Early

Now the baby is taken from the breast or the flimsiest of excuses. He is given new foods early and often, even during his first few months of life. Before his digestive apparatus has developed the ability to digest anything but mother's milk, it is called upon to take care of spinach, carrots, orange juice, cereals, whole cow's milk, and a vast number of foods before his insides find out what it is all about.

As a result, the digestive functions are overworked. They fail to digest much that is forced upon them and our hospital clinics see a great number of babies with eczema which they treat with more or less success. Now, in the maternity hospitals, even a strong baby is given some artificial food, in addition to its mother's supply during the first three days.

I guess I am a little old-fashioned, but I could never quite comprehend why, if mother nature wanted the baby to have milk the first three days after birth, she did not provide it. A very weak feeble child may need some little food at first, but he should be sure that it is easily digested, given in only small quantities. Too many times our efforts to improve on nature have a back, which we could get along as well without. Continued tomorrow.

Hard-boiled Eggs

The secret in making hard-boiled eggs is to lower them carefully into boiling water, otherwise the eggs may break and run out. The safest way is to have the eggs ready in a sieve. Then simply slip the sieve into a pot of boiling water, turn down the light and let the eggs simmer for fifteen minutes. Always give them a chance to cool before attempting to peel them. Or, if you are in a hurry, put them in cold water for about ten minutes.

Profiles For Today

William Gillette Has a Birthday

By TALBOT LAKE

THAT grand patriarch of stage tradition, William Gillette, has just passed his eightieth birthday, and he is just as ever. This is good news to his uncounted friends since he first burst upon the theatrical horizon with "Sherlock Holmes."

He played the role in every town, almost, in the country, and virtually all of the more mature citizens have seen him.

There is absolutely no use, however, in becoming sentimental about him to his face. He still lives in comparative seclusion on his unusual estate at Hadlyme, Conn., doesn't like to be disturbed, and never will grant interviews.

Nevertheless, we do know that on his birthday he took his customary ride on the little railroad he built on the estate. The story of that three-mile system is engaging. When Holmes—pardon, Gillette—was a boy he constructed an astonishingly complicated railroad in his father's backyard, and always was possessed of an urge to work with his hands. His ambition was to build a larger one if he ever got enough money.

The boy who seemed headed for engineering or the inventive fields grew up to be an actor, and for many years the urge had no outlet. He played Holmes so many times that he was thoroughly sick of the whole thing, and tried regularly new plays. Some were successful, but after a little while the public would clamor for Holmes and the actor would have to put on a revival.

This all nettled him a nice fortune, and he decided to retire. It was then that the mechanical urge was satisfied. He built a grim castle of stone, which is entirely devoid of nails, being wooden pegged.

But the piece-de-resistance is the railroad. It is complete, with well constructed bridges, upgrades, two stations, and a roundhouse for the two engines. When entertaining friends stops are made at the stations for refreshments, and when Gillette is at the throttle he whistles at the passengers and rings the bell furiously.

Guide to Charm

Pleasing Men with Makeup Calls for Skill

By JACQUELINE HUNT

HOW old-fashioned it seems to hear women say that their husbands or men friends disapprove of make-up! Yet this is a frequently discussed problem over the bridge table or where women get together and dozens of you write to me about this very thing.

It is natural for you to want your boy friend or husband to notice you and approve. Yet you expect him to remain blissfully ignorant of your make-up tricks or to accept results that are far from flattering.

How much does he really know and what does he want you to do about cosmetics? If you ask him, he may not tell you, but he will discuss the matter freely with a beauty editor and out of many conversations, I have gleaned one important fact to pass on.

Men are sensitive creatures. When you use too much make-up, they feel you are making yourself and them conspicuous, and there is nothing a man dreads more than criticism. Keep this in mind and use your make-up with a light, skilful hand and your boy friend or husband will think you attractive and charming. It will not occur to him to ask how you do it.

Start with your powder. Men hate a powdered look. If you are still using the face powder you used last winter, you had better put it away and invest in a powder a shade or two darker. Even the slightest glow of suntan will call for a darker powder if you want your skin to look naturally velvety and flawless.

Yours add more vivid shade of rouge and lipstick in the summer when your skin is darker. However, you must be more careful to select the right shades—warm rouses, oranges, reds and pinks are most natural with a tanned skin. Use them sparingly. Start with a little rouge and blend it into the proper areas softly at the temples, little darker in the center. If you need more color, add it speck by speck. It is hard to tone down too much color, but you can always add more.

Lipstick is a hazard for most women, and how men hate harsh over-painted mouths! Finding the right color of lipstick requires experimenting, but it is worth it. Beware the over-bright shades with a bluish cast to them. Some of the new lipsticks that are nicest for sun-tanned skins look nearly brown in the stick, but they are so rich and natural on the lips.

Blend a small amount of the color into your lips, outlining the mouth with a smooth, neat line, then filling in the center. Blend carefully with your fingertips. Leave undisturbed several minutes before moistening your lips and the color will last for hours. When you see the improvement after this delicate application of lipstick, do not be so pleased that you add an extra touch. It is the "extra touch" that usually gives you that harsh, painted look.

We have already commented upon the importance of ostich trimmings in the millinery mode, as indicative of the growing acceptance of trimmed hats, a point proved also during spring and summer by the many flowers and veils which appeared on millinery worn by smartly dressed American women. Fashionable Parisians attending the races are obviously favorable to hats with feathers or flowers, so that the swing toward garnitures, so long in the making, has arrived.

But in analyzing what is being shown in the many imports already in this country, it is noteworthy that the trimming idea will extend in many directions. Millinery creations lean toward elaboration, and this means not only the use of rich and colorful velvet, brocades, furs, but means the use of jeweled ornaments, intricately devised cabochons, embroideries both tailored and formal, velvet flowers, veils.

British Styles No Longer Held In World Contempt

By IRENE VAIL

New York — English women have not enjoyed a high rating as mannequins and English clothes have never been taken very seriously — until recently. The exception to this too general observation has been sports clothes, for when it comes to shooting suits and golf frocks, there has never been any doubt of the supremacy of English tweeds. Interest in suede garment types has not, however, been general enough to make the subject a stirring one.

Ascot fashions have often caused merriment, but strange as it may seem more and more stylists are admitting that English offers a fertile field for their imagination. English women are gaining style prestige.

Dishes for Today

'Extra' Touch Brightens the Summer Dish

By JUDITH WILSON

BREAKFAST, especially in the summer when appetites are so temperamental, should be a leisurely meal in cheerful surroundings. The menu itself need not be elaborate, but it needs the thoughtful touches that make each dish seem unusual and attractive.

You might serve a fried egg and crisp cup of bacon any morning in the year, but try adding several sprigs of crisp watercress and two or three scarlet radish roses to the plate and see how summery and inviting it becomes! Be lavish with your servings of fresh fruit during the hot weather and try it in different combinations with colorful berries and melons.

Here are recipes that will brighten your summer menus:

BREAKFASTS
Raspberries and Sliced Peaches with Cream
Chicken-Liver Omelet
Tiny Biscuits
Strawberry Jam
Coffee

Honeyball Halves with Diced Fresh Fruit
Crisp Cereal
Baked or Fried Eggs with Bacon, Watercress and Radishes
Oatmeal-Honey Muffins
Coffee
Cocoa

Omelet

Allow one egg for each person with one tablespoon milk or cream and salt and pepper to taste. Beat lightly. Melt two tablespoons butter to each egg in an omelet pan or heavy skillet and turn in the mixture. Cook over low heat. Lift with a spatula occasionally, permitting the uncooked portion to run underneath. When firm, spread with sautéed chicken livers and roll or fold over.

Chicken Livers

Clean and cut into quarters four chicken livers. Dice one slice bacon and fry in two tablespoons butter until light brown. Add one-half teaspoon finely chopped onion and one-fourth cup fresh or caper mushrooms. Simmer until onion is well cooked, then add the livers and cook until well done. This can be prepared early and kept hot until your omelet is ready.

Recipes for Breakfast

One homemaker makes her summer breakfasts unusual by serving crisp just-out-of-the-oven cookies or a simple dessert. Fruit whip or a simple custard are frequent choices.

Eggs in Muffin Cups

Scoop out the centers of English muffins, leaving a thick rim round the edges. Butter the insides and into each one break an egg. Sprinkle lightly with salt, pepper and paprika and dot with butter. Bake in a hot oven until the eggs are set and the muffin cups lightly toasted. Serve at once. If you wish crisp bacon frizzled dried beef or ham might accompany the baked eggs.

Pineapple-Pear Marmalade

Muffs, toast or tiny biscuits are twice as good if you have something sweet to go with them. A pineapple and pear mixture is delicious and easy to make. Cut up two cups of dried pears, then chop fine, cover with two cups water and cook until tender. Add two cups sugar, one cup crushed

MODERN WOMEN

The Problem of the Family Money Is Told On Masculine Side

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

ALL things being equal—if they ever are—why should not the responsibility of spending and saving the family funds, or at least the apportioning of them be trusted to the thriftest member of the firm. Is it not perfectly possible for the wage earner to be a poor hand at saving? What do you think? Here is a man who is evidently not in sympathy with putting his entire trust in women's ability to handle the family funds. He offers no alternative, however.

"My dear Mrs. Martin, In a Jersey City court a husband is fighting for an accounting after handiwork his wife checked over to his wife for many years. The elderly husband claims his wife is a communist."

"You can't puncture this ball," he further explained. "The children were properly impressed, and one of their number suggested, 'Let's have a catch.' They lined up and the ball was relayed back and forth from one to the other.

This game proceeded systematically, until someone hurled the ball out of bounds. As it rolled to the end of the street, Philip called out to a passerby, "Hey, mister, will you stop that ball!" But the man paid no attention to him.

Philip started running after the ball, the gang at his heels. As he neared the corner he stopped. He was just in time to see it disappear down the sewer. He snapped his fingers. It was a picture of hopelessness. His chin began to quiver and he burst into tears. Like a baby he ran crying all the way home.

It had been an expensive ball. When he told his mother why he was crying, she assumed a vindictive attitude. "It serves you right. You're a careless boy. I hope this will teach you a lesson." And to make sure that it would, mother made him stay in doors for the rest of the afternoon.

In dealing with children some allowance should be made for hard luck. Anyone could lose a ball. Punishment and scolding are unnecessary. The natural consequences of the act amount to punishment. The child suffers loss and he suffers pain. A wise parent would say, "Don't cry. I know that you're sorry. But it could not be helped. It was an accident." And she might give him a cookie in an attempt to soothe him.

pineapple and two tablespoons each of orange and lemon juice and a little grated rind if you like a stronger flavor. Cook slowly until thick. This may be stored in a covered marmalade jar or clean glasses, but will warm you won't last long. It is delicious with hot toast and tea.

Not Give All

"Husbands who read as they run have decided in many cases against handing over the entire week's wage to wives. Too many things can and should be handled by the ladies sans the upper hand with the greatest of ease. Some men have their check mailed to a bank in their own names every week. Others maintain joint bank accounts, always a little dangerous, and others just never have any money to worry about.

"For some years back certain of my friends have gone along in complete bliss handing the whole income over to their wives. I do not think this is good business. It is all very nice to talk about having implicit confidence in one's mate, but the world provides from day to day for many minor tragedies, proving that things do happen. To make a woman custodian of all a man's money is to place temptation in her way, and incidentally make her a czar of sorts. In order to keep track of his possessions a man must necessarily put up with any sort of treatment the boss craves to hand out.

"Some of my friends declare that the number of self-supporting and self-respecting males in the world decreases every year. In that event the issue I am trying to discuss would be nullified.

Some Basis in Fact

"This does not speak very well for the male sex or for the future of the race, but I do not doubt that there is some basis in fact for the assertion. I do not imagine most women would hand over a week's wages to any man and keep it up very long. Women have been on the receiving, rather than the taking, for too many generations.

"Infatuated women have been known to trust wealth to their pitiful lovers, but they did so only when newly infatuated. With the passing of the infatuation the madness passes. And it is reasonable to assume that women who give money over to adventurers never really earned the money. They probably received it from husbands who'd deceased or just mentally dead.

"I think you should discuss subjects like this in your column. After all, money is important. If you don't think so, try getting along without it some time.

A Friend of Mar.

I agree with you that matters pertaining to money and other practical phases of married life need more open discussion. Most of us find it less difficult to solve our emotional than our financial problem. The fair and equitable distribution of the family funds provides a theme for many a column and, indeed, offers so many opportunities for discussion that I hope those who read the above letter may send us their views on the subject of how the family pay envelope should best be handled.

Old Fashioned Nut Loaf Two cups sifted cake flour, two teaspoons double-acting baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, two-thirds cup butter or other shortening, one cup sugar, three eggs, unbeaten, one cup finely cut nut meats, six tablespoons milk, one teaspoon vanilla.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Add nuts and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in greased pan 8x4x3 inches, in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour and fifteen minutes, or until done.

QUESTION: "In sending a telegram of congratulation to a friend being married, how is it addressed and where is it sent? It is to be a church wedding."

ANSWER: Address the telegram to the newly married pair, as "Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Smith." Send it to the church, arranging for it to get there after the marriage has taken place and the pair have been made "Mr. and Mrs."

QUESTION: "We are going on a boat ride and will have our dinner aboard. How can I suppose to dress? Would a dinner dress be in keeping? My boy friend plans to wear a white linen suit—Grace N."

Attorney Slays Former Judge

RYAN, TEXAS, Aug. 2.—M. M. Riedel, 36, Houston attorney, faced murder charges today for the admitted slaying of Luther Broadway, 40, former county judge and attorney at Madisonville, in a hotel room where Riedel said he found Broadway and Mrs. Riedel together. Bond was tentatively set at $5,000 and C. L. Gustin of Madison county, father of Mrs. Riedel, had arranged to obtain surety.

Riedel said he went to the hotel room yesterday and found Judge Broadway, clad only in underwear, and Mrs. Riedel only partly clothed. Broadway was felled with five pistol bullets in the head.

Sixty vessels steamed out of Tokyo bay to participate in the maneuvers.

Girl Loses Two Husbands In Day

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 2.—The unusual sensation of losing two husbands in one day was experienced today in superior court by Maybelle Langton, 22, Titian-haired governess.

She testified that in November, 1933, she married Printz Langton at Yuma, Ariz. In the belief she was eligible legally for matrimony. She said, however, that it developed later her marriage to George Rouge had not yet been severed officially.

When she learned that her marriage to her first husband was still in force she said she left Printz. Today Mrs. Langton first rid herself of Langton by annulment and then gained full freedom by obtaining her final decree of divorce from her first husband.

Peach Men Fail On Price Pact

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—UP—Negotiations to establish a minimum price for the 1935 cling peach crop in California were abandoned today when growers and canners failed to agree on a price proposal.

Canners have persistently rejected the price of $40 a ton proposed by growers. Growers have as persistently refused to accept a price of $24.50, based on an estimated crop production of 195,000 tons.

Opinion that growers would be dependent shops had been closed. Twenty strikers were arrested today for picketing a San Francisco wholesale fur store. They were released after posting bond of $5 each.

David Goldstein, Oakland, fur store operator, reported to police he had been beaten by two men who used fists and blackjacks.

HOUSE WILL VOTE MONDAY ON TAX ACT

$5000 a year was defeated 69 to 16.

ATTACK IS ON

The regular Republicans continued their attack on the measure by filing two of their biggest oratorical guns. Representative Allen Treadway of Massachusetts and Representative John Tabor of New York. Treadway concentrated on Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

"The secretary," he said, "appeared before the Senate finance committee yesterday and refused to analyze or discuss this bill. Of course, he couldn't state his views; he hasn't got any views. He thinks whatever the experts down in the treasury department think."

DEFENDS BILL

"Yes," chimed in Representative Thomas A. Jenkins, Ohio Republican. "I think probably President Roosevelt sent to New York for Morgenthau's father to come down here when he wanted somebody to be secretary of the treasury. Then I think the father sent the son down here to be the hired hand and he turned out to be a very poor hired hand."

The Roosevelt bill was defended by Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the House ways and means committee who said it would raise revenue from the people who can best afford to pay it and would redistribute wealth.

"You know," Doughton added, "redistribution of wealth was advocated by Theodore Roosevelt before he went to Heaven."

"I am sure that the House is glad that at least one Roosevelt went to Heaven," broke in Representative Harold Knutson, Republican, Minnesota.

"Yes," Doughton yelled, "and the Republicans read him out of the party."

FINAL VOTE MONDAY

A quiet little conference behind the scenes today quelled the half-hearted filibuster that Republicans started against the bill yesterday. Speaker Joseph W. Byrnes said the present plan was to finish the six hours of general debate today, vote on amendments tomorrow and probably wait until Monday to take a final vote on the bill.

Then it will be sent to the Senate. On that side of the capital the finance committee continued hearings. Organized business continues its attack on the graduated corporation tax proposed in the bill and upon the levies on gifts and inheritances.

Federal Funds To Aid In War On Rum Runners

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2. (UP)

Allotment by President Roosevelt of more than $10,000,000 to continue liquor investigations had today resulted in plans for a new campaign against California bootleggers and illicit liquors, to be conducted jointly by the Federal alcohol tax agency and investigators of the state board of equalization.

Bootlegging in retail channels will be the special targets of the investigation, James H. Malone, district supervisor of the alcohol tax unit, Federal Bureau of Internal Revenue said.

He said he expected the unit's staff of 95 investigators to be augmented shortly. Agents are already operating in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Malone said, and others will be dispatched to other retailing areas in the state within a few days.

Parr Is Speaker At Rotary Meet

Fred Parr yesterday told members of the Richmond Rotary Club that he will continue his legal fight to bring justice to local shippers and industries so that they may secure their rights to use the docks which their taxes have built on the local waterfront.

Parr said that plans will be announced within several days in which he hopes, with the cooperation of the city council, to put in motion a plan to give the local docks the same rights to do business as other terminals in the bay region enjoy.

Parr paid tribute to Congressman A. E. Carter and Congressman Florence Kahn whom he met on a recent eastern trip.

E. B. Bill was chairman of the day.

EARLEY VISITS US

We have just been afforded the pleasure of a visit from Postmaster General Earley, the high ranking position of the Democratic national administration. He told us, a great man Mr. Roosevelt is, to which we have no objection. It is hardly likely he would have said anything of it as it is his main job to say that. Otherwise someone else would be holding his position. However, it was very significant that at the very moment he was attending to the duties of the office of the United States Postmaster General, he was also attending to the duties of the office of the United States Postmaster General.

THE REAL TEST

The question arises from the incident, "what is the test of Democracy?" in these days? According to Mr. Earley, a Democrat is one who blindly and without argument or hesitation follows the dictates of the President. If that is true, Mr. Roosevelt finds himself in the unfavorable position of being a president without a party, for a large majority look him on this issue as it has on others in the recent past.

PAKE-TIMERS?

Perhaps there is such a thing as a part time Democrat? When they take orders they are entitled to do so, but when they refuse to do so they are something else again, but what that is, it would be difficult to figure.

The "yes" school of politics is not in high favor right now, but I apprehend that before long, with the sight of that $5,000,000,000 fund dancing before their eyes, and the covert threat that they will not share in it unless they are good and behave, there will be a rapid drifting back of Democrats towards neutrality and the party fold.

Shot Is Fired At Station Man

Police yesterday were searching for an unknown gunman who is believed to have fired a shot at James Gladden, 3334 King street, Berkeley, service station attendant at Cutting boulevard and San Pablo avenue in El Cerrito.

According to Gladden he was standing in the service station when a slug crashed through the window, missing him by only a few inches. The bullet hit an oil barrel and glanced into a corner. Gladden said he ran out of the station and saw a man sitting in a machine. He said the man threw his car into gear and sped away traveling north on San Pablo avenue.

Police say that the bullet was fired from a .45 calibre automatic pistol. Gladden was unable to give any motive for the shooting.

LIQUOR DON'TS ARE ISSUED BY THE U. S.

The 68,000 retail liquor dealers of California yesterday were given a list of 12 "don'ts" for their guidance in the business of selling liquor, the baker's dozen of additional barterments for the liquor purveyors being issued by James H. Malone, supervisor of the 14th District alcohol tax unit of the United States Bureau of Internal Revenue.

DRIVE ON BOOTLEG

At the same time Malone stated that a new and intensified campaign to remove "bootleg" liquor had been launched in San Francisco and Los Angeles, and would in a short time take in the rest of the state.

The 12 Malone "don'ts" are:

Don't fail to purchase a special tax stamp from U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue each year.

SALES DIRECTED

Don't make sales of five gallons or over, even in assorted lots.

Don't fail to destroy government marks, stamps and brands on empty packages.

Don't dilute the contents of any barrel or bottle.

Don't refill any liquor bottles or barrels.

Don't sell any liquor bottles.

Don't let empty bottles accumulate. They should be destroyed.

Daniel Regello Taken By Death

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mary D. Regello, he is survived by the following children: Mrs. Mary Lawrence, Mrs. Laura Ingraham and Frank Regello of Richmond. The following brothers and sisters survive also: Mrs. Angelica Machado and Frank Regello of San Pablo, Eugene Regello of St. Helena, Mrs. Anna Silvera of Massachusetts and Mrs. Mary Vargas and Anthony Regello of the Azores.

Ernest and Louis Ingraham and Leonard Rose, grandchildren, of Richmond, are other survivors.

The funeral cortege will leave the Ryan Funeral home Monday morning at 8:30, proceeding to St. Mark's church where requiem mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Catherine's cemetery, Martinez, will follow the rites.

Rosary will be recited in the Ryan chapel Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Body who can't carry at least five silver dollars in each pocket is a sissy," he said.

ROOSEVELT FORECASTS MORE JOBS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (UP)—He will be a decided pickup in employment during September and October under the Work Relief program, President Roosevelt predicted at his pre-conference today.

Mr. Roosevelt estimated that the program would have approximately 7,000,000 persons working by mid autumn, about three quarters of the 2,500,000 employable needy now on relief rolls. He hoped that the remaining 800,000 would find jobs in private industry between now and November.

WINTER TO SEE PEAK

It may be winter, however, before the peak of work relief employment is reached, he indicated. Administration experts, he said, are projecting the relief program toward one objective, putting as many men to work as possible by November 1.

Mr. Roosevelt revealed that Comptroller General John R. McCarl, who was his guest last week on a cruise down the Potomac, had promised to speed up action on allocations under the $4,000,000,000 fund which are sent to him for approval.

AID PROGRAM

This will help the relief program especially in cases which involve state plans.

The President was under a heavy load of questions during the brief semi-weekly meeting with correspondents. Good natured and unflinching, he parried some deftly and balked on others.

Mr. Roosevelt revealed that the navy has threatened conditionally to take away naval construction contracts of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation at Groton, S. J., unless the strike at its plant is settled.

STRIKE THREAT

The strike has been in progress about 12 weeks. The government has offered to arbitrate by appointing three officials, who are acceptable to the workers, but the arbitrators are not acceptable to the corporation, he said.

The navy today dispatched another letter supplementing one of last week, the Chief Executive revealed.

Mr. Roosevelt revealed plans for another trip abroad the September this week end. He added, however, that he has not made any vacation plans and did not know when he would start the proposed trip to San Diego, Calif.

DENIES ACTION ON REPS

A questioner asked if the President was behind a movement to crush radicals in the Pacific Coast shipping unions. Mr. Roosevelt paused and asked that the question be repeated. Then he replied emphatically that he never heard of such a thing.

Asked concerning yesterday's testimony at the Senate lobby investigation regarding a whispering campaign against him, he said he was not surprised. When someone asked him if the utilities holding company bill was acceptable in its present form, he said it was too much of an "if" question, but added the hope that a bill would be put through.

Commenting on the recent flood of suits against the AAA seeking to enjoin collection of processing taxes, Mr. Roosevelt observed that the concern of farmers over the threat to the AAA program was a symptom of the fact that cotton and wheat prices are better than they have been in several years. The farmer is getting more money and his purchasing power is greatly augmented.

USELESS GENTLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Legislation to repeal formally the old Volstead prohibition enforcement act, still on the books, was on a list of measures proposed to President Roosevelt today by Chairman Sumners of the House Judiciary Committee.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or anything else and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

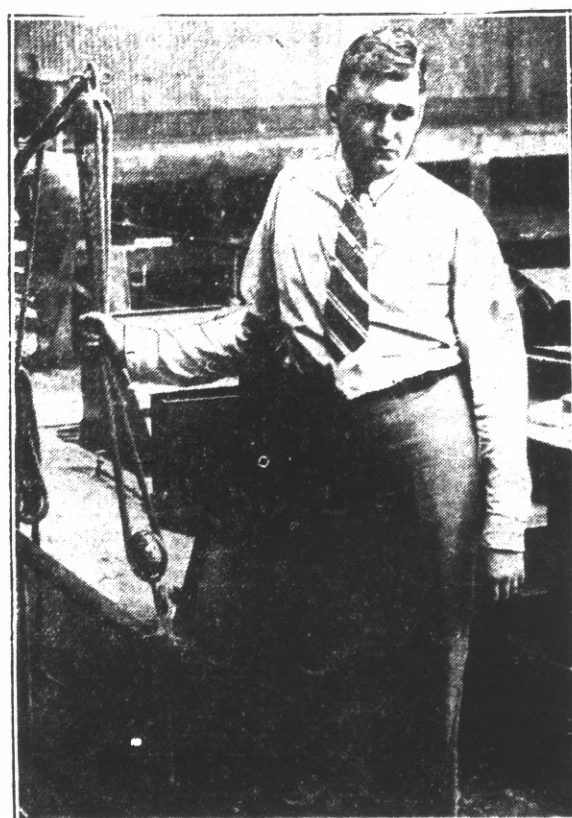

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Just don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute. Speed drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Damages Given For Boy's Death

MARTINEZ, Aug. 2.—Death of Aldo Cavalli, 10-year-old Brentwood boy, who died after he was struck by an automobile driven by Wilbur B. Kirby, 35, Stockton salesman nearly two years ago today had resulted in a judgment of $5,000 in favor of the boy's father following trial of a damage suit here today.

An action for $20,000 damages had been filed by John Cavalli, father of the boy, against Kirby after the boy's death. Attorneys A. B. Tinning and T. H. Delap represented the plaintiff.

Today the case was tried before Judge Thomas D. Johnston, without a jury, and the jurist found judgment in favor of Cavalli.

Kirby was arrested on a manslaughter charge after his car was claimed to have struck the boy on the Brentwood-Oakley highway on October 10, 1933.

He was tried January 12, 1934 and a jury found him guilty of manslaughter. On February 5 he was sentenced to San Quentin on the charge.
